

Lynley Aldridge
E-mail: lynley.aldridge@gmail.com

SUMMARY OF QUALIFICATIONS

Social scientist. PhD qualified research and evaluation analyst with over seven years' workplace research experience coordinating a variety of quantitative and qualitative projects to successful completion. Strong communicator with proven analytical and problem-solving skills. Proficient in data collection, data management, and data analysis (using SPSS, R, Excel, NVivo, and SAS Enterprise Guide).

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Research Officer

May 2017-Feb 2020

AimHigh; Division of Equity, Diversity and Inclusion; University of New South Wales (Australia)

- Monitoring and evaluation of educational outreach initiatives (designing quantitative and qualitative data collection tools and dashboards; conducting interviews and focus groups; cleaning and analysing data; and reporting findings and recommendations).
- Analysis and modelling of trends in university application, offer, and enrolment data (identifying data sources; extracting, manipulating, and analysing data using SAS Enterprise Guide/ Excel).
- Using data to advocate for changes to institutional policy and practice to improve access and outcomes for disadvantaged students.

Teaching Assistant/ Workshop Tutor

Jan 2013-May 2013

School of Sociology & Social Policy, University of Leeds (UK)

- Workshop tutor for second year Research Methods module (quantitative analysis using SPSS).

Project Coordinator

School of Psychology, University of Sydney (Australia)

Mar 2012-Aug 2012

- Coordinated a complex multi-stranded systematic literature review on suffering in cancer through to on-schedule completion.

Project Coordinator

Jan 2008-Sept 2010

School of Psychology, University of Sydney (Australia)

- Coordinated a complex multi-site study recruiting and surveying migrant cancer patients.
- Liaising and negotiating with Cancer Registry staff, stakeholders, and participants to set up and implement the study.
- Drafting ethics and funding applications and reports, and study protocol and procedures.
- Budgeting and sourcing additional funding.
- Data management and analysis (quantitative and qualitative) using advanced skills in Access, Excel, SPSS, and NVivo.
- Training and supervising a small team of bilingual research assistants.
- Presenting at national and international conferences and contributing to manuscripts.

Research Assistant

Feb 2006-Dec 2007

School of Psychology, University of Sydney (Australia)

- Facilitated the smooth running of a longitudinal study of women with ovarian cancer and their partners/carers. The study recruited over 1000 participants from 21 sites.
- Data management and analysis using advanced skills in Access, Excel, and SPSS.
- Responsible for day to day study administration (e.g., sending questionnaires, processing incoming mail, data entry, telephone contact with participants etc).

EDUCATION

PhD Sociology University of Leeds (UK) The overseas working holiday and graduate employment trajectories: A cross-cultural comparison	2012 – 2017
MA Sociological Research (with Distinction) University of Essex (UK)	2010 – 2011
B Psychology (Hons, Class 1) Charles Sturt University (Australia)	1998 – 2003
Grad Dip Japanese Hiroshima University (Japan)	1995 – 1996
B Japanese Wollongong University (Australia)	1993 – 1996

AWARDS

- University of Leeds Fully-Funded International Research Scholarship
- Japan Foundation Endowment Committee grant of £3,300 to support PhD fieldwork in Japan
- Fuller Postgraduate Prize, University of Essex – best overall performance in coursework & thesis
- School of Social Sciences and Liberal Studies (Honours) Scholarship, Charles Sturt University

SELECTED PUBLICATIONS AND PRESENTATIONS

Detailed list available upon request.

I have two first-authored peer-reviewed publications and am co-author on a further fourteen. I have presented at national and international conferences, including as an invited speaker. I have led workshops on the use of Access, Excel and Endnote to facilitate research.

Aldridge L. (2014). Overseas gap years and working holidays in the UK and Japan: Insights from a comparative approach. 18th ISA World Congress of Sociology, 13-19 July 2014, Yokohama, Japan.

Aldridge L, McGrane J, et al. (2010). Unmet needs in Chinese (Mandarin and Cantonese), Greek and Arabic-speaking cancer survivors in Australia. International Psycho-Oncology Society 12th World Congress of Psycho-Oncology, 25-29 May 2010, Quebec, Canada.

Best M, Aldridge L, et al. (2014). Assessment of spiritual suffering in the cancer context: A systematic literature review. Palliative & Supportive Care, 13(5), 1335-61.

Butow P, Aldridge L, et al. (2013). Inferior health-related quality of life and psychological well-being in immigrant cancer survivors: A population-based study. European Journal of Cancer, 49(8), 1948-56.

Butow P, Bell M, Aldridge L, et al. (2013). Unmet needs in immigrant cancer survivors: A cross-sectional population-based study. Supportive Care in Cancer, 21(9), 2509-20.

Aldridge LJ, Islam MR. (2012). Cultural differences in athlete attributions for success and failure: The sports pages revisited. International Journal of Psychology, 47(1): 67-75.

Aldridge L. (2011). Integrating immediate context and enduring dispositions in the explanation of action: An illustration using 'Gone with the Wind'. The Essex Graduate Journal of Sociology, 11: 42-52.